United Fund Tops Goal

Cameron's United Fund goal has been reached and left far behind as participants contributed a total of $16,088.11 in cash and pledges, the largest since the annual drive was started.

Monroe Fuchs, UF campaign chairman, said the area's reaching 160 percent of a $10,000 goal is the highest in the state, with the closest competitor at 137 percent.

The UF board met Monday afternoon for a report on the drive and discussed disposition of surplus funds. Several local agencies will receive additional help.

Fuchs said without the hard work by campaign workers and the excellent participation by the community, the drive would not have succeeded in such a big way.

Some 40 or 50 businesses will receive certificates commending them for 100 percent participation. Plaques were considered by the board, but decision was the expense would be too much.

Funds will be allocated this way: Council on Alcoholism, $250; Day Care Center, $1,200; Boy Scouts, $1,908; Junior Livestock barn building fund $1,000; Salvation Army, $2,400; Little League, $600; Girl Scouts, $1,069; Red Cross, $2,000; and Cameron Community Center, $200.

Discussion by the board centered on using the funds in excess of allocations for local agencies. It was decided to allocate $200 to each Boy Scout troop, $1000 to Little League for use in construction of a second new ballfield, and $40 to each of the six newly organized Girl Scout troops. In addition, the fund will pay for materials to repair the Girl Scout Hut in Ledbetter Park.

Additional funds for the Community Center was discussed, but action was tabled for further information about whether the center needs more. The Center's allocation is used for maintenance of the Center when used by non-profit organizations.

A reserve fund of $2000 will be used for any emergencies coming up during the year, board members agreed. It was also voted to pay the Chamber of Commerce for expenses incurred in handling the paperwork and other items for the drive.

Board also appointed Mary Jo Hux to fill an unexpired term on the board.

Employees at Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works notched an all-time record in their annual United Fund campaign which drew to a close Friday with donations or pledges to tally $15,418 to eclipse the $15,000 goal.

Co-chairmen Jim Eli and Estel Johnston said they were very pleased with the participation, cooperative spirit and generosity of Rockdale Works employees. They also praised the 72 employee solicitors for their active role in organizing and generating contributions.

The Rockdale Alcoa Employees United Fund (AEUF) drive also exceeded its goal in support of the hometown South Milam County campaign, with total contributions of $11,038.

The AEUF drive supported 11 other area United Fund campaigns with donations over $4,000. These drives supported were Taylor, $1857; Cameron, $1342; Bryan, $353; Bremond, $294; Marlin, $168; Waco, $143; Temple, $130; Austin, $60; Belton and Washington County, $24; and West, $12.

"This was strictly an employee effort, conducted by employees selected before the campaign got underway," the co-chairmen concurred. "All praise should go to these individuals for their fine community spirit and for the helping hand they extended to the less fortunate. It has been an honor for us to be associated with this campaign and is especially pleasing because of the record-breaking results. We hope this record will be broken annually."

Last year's AEUF campaign netted $14,456, or 104 percent of its goal.

Alcoa, the area's largest employer, permits only one in-plant fund-raising campaign a year, the United Fund. The company encourages payroll deduction pledges by both salaried and hourly employees.

ALL CATTLEMEN ASKED TO JOIN ASSOCIATION

Milam County cattlemen and all those concerned about the current slump in the cattle market are urged to meet Monday, November 11 for organizing a county unit of the Independent Cattlemen's Association.

Meeting will be held at Yoe High Gym in Cameron starting at 7 p.m. T. A. Cunningham of Goliad, president of the state wide organization, will be principal speaker.

The new organization is about 40 days old but already over 100 counties have organized with over 60,000 members, according to Charles Ellison of Baileyville, who is handling publicity for the county meeting.

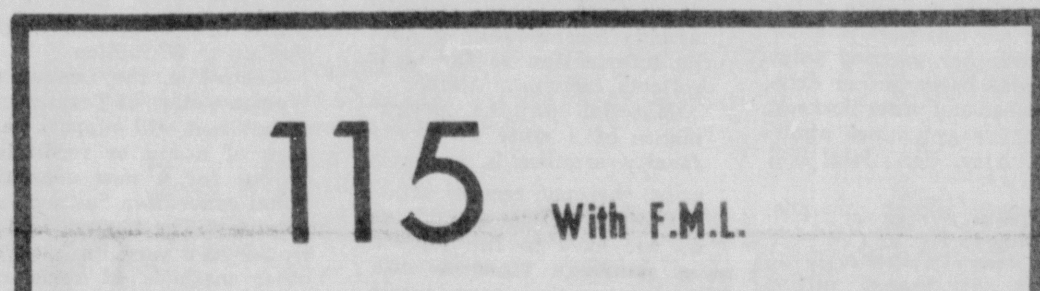

The new association is mainly a marketing organization aimed at action to get better prices for cattle and cut down imports of foreign beef. The organization is also against the new Land Use Bill.

Ellison said the meeting is open to all cattlemen, their wives, and anyone else interested, whether or not they own even one cow.

He stated that the Association will not be competing with other farm organizations and no dues will be collected, however, donations will be accepted.

Ellison pointed out that while carcass beef is selling now for about 38 cents a pound, supermarket prices are still from $1.50 to $2 a pound. And the feedlots have been affected, with grain-fed beef bringing no better prices than grass-fed.

The organization hopes to "put the feedlots back in business" and should help the grain market, Ellison added.

The world may relieve itself in pathos, but it finds itself--though perhaps only momentarily at times--in bathos.

I am saying the world enjoys a good cry or bloodbath more than it uses its resources to resolve crisis or problem as it occurs.

I suppose, no, I know you have to have both release and resolution. A "stout-hearted man" needs to whimper once in a while or he and those around him will wonder if that is a pacer in his chest.

But if you think people want to hear a whimper, forget it. It's liable to make them mad or compel them to whimper along with you until there's nothing to do but wail in the soapbuds, "cry in your beer" or ultimately dash a .38 round through the brainpan. Somebody said we are "born with a wail and die with a whimper." But a favorite response to this is Thomas Wolfe's view "that we must deny it all along the way."

Denial may not be literally ignoring things. I think it means working things out as you go. Let emotional stuff pile up and there isn't a beer mug big enough or prayer long enough to deal with it.

Since our arrival is uncertain and desire to survive is universal, the easy out and certainly one solution is to set our institutions and institutionalized selves adrift in a sea of pity, of emotional brine which floats dead things and pickles our brains.

If ever you swim in really dense salt water, you float, such as at Great Salt Lake in Utah. It's easy but you don't get anywhere. It's fun too.

Even though the scheme is deeper than the schemes fathom, they of you and I are well equipped to slice a piece of life a day at a time and deal with it. It's easier, but disciplinarian, I suppose, to consume things wafertin rather than pile it monsterdeep until it falls on you. Enjoy a good cry, maybe three. Indulge yourself. Drink five martinis instead of two. Take a case to bed with you. Pray your plight will be pitied. Ten times a day.

If the problem is gone, please call me. You may be relieved, regardless of what kind of hangover you choose, but the problem will not vaporize. That's pathos.

You solve it. That's bathos.

Thorndale Man Caught In Bank, FBI Takes Over

A Thorndale man is facing federal charges of breaking in a bank following his arrest in the Thorndale State Bank last Thursday night.

Paul David Cochran, 21, of Thorndale was arraigned before a United States Magistrate in Waco after he was found in the bank at 11 p.m. by Taylor Holand, Thorndale city marshal. Nothing was taken from the bank.

Sheriff Carl Black said several companions had accompanied Cochran downtown and may be implicated in the incident, although they did not enter the bank.

Cochran was brought to the county jail then was turned over to FBI officers at Waco.

Sheriff Black said Cochran, in a statement to the sheriff, also admitted entering two business in Thorndale on Halloween night, taking a second handgun, and pouring belt dressing all over the store. He entered Ribbeck's Furniture and Niemtsch's Hardware through a skylight.

Cochran also admitted taking a pair of boots from C. A. Forbes Grocery and Drygoods the same night he entered the bank. He wore the boots to the bank and left them there.

Schools To Dismiss Early

Cameron Schools will dismiss classes at 2:45 p.m. Friday so the buses can make their runs and be back for the trip to the football game at Manor.

Pecan, Foods Show Open To Growers, Cooks

The 1974 Milam County Pecan and Pecan Foods Show will be held Saturday at the KC Hall in Cameron. Entries of pecans and foods containing pecans will be welcomed for the annual show.

The event is sponsored by the Horticulture Committee and Milam County Home Demonstration Clubs.

Pecan entries will consist of a quart of pecans in a plastic bag with name of grower and variety, if known, attached. Entrants are limited to one entry per variety with the exception of native pecans.

Entries may be left at the Chamber of Commerce office in Rockdale, the County Extension office in Cameron, or the Buckholts Farmers Gin in Buckholts. Entry deadline is Thursday.

There will be two divisions in the pecan foods show, senior for those 20 years of age or older and the junior division for those under 20.

Each division is composed of six classes: cakes, pies, cookies, candy, yeast breads, and quick breads. Only one entry per class will be accepted and all entries must contain pecans.

All food entries are to be at the KC Hall by 9 a.m. Saturday. They will be judged and ribbons will be awarded to all entries.

Following the awarding of ribbons, products may be picked up or sold as the individual wishes. Any organization wishing to set up a booth and sell its products following the judging is free to do so.

Questions about the show may be directed to the County Extension office.

A pecan cracker will be available at the show courtesy of the Winkler Pecan Farm. Cracking charge is ten cents a pound and persons are asked to limit the amount of pecans cracked to 20 pounds so that more can be serviced. The crackers will be set up all day Friday and until noon on Saturday.

All residents of Milam County are invited to enter the show with their pecans or pecan foods.

Center Sets Open House

The Cameron Day Care Center will hold openhouse Sunday, November 10 from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to stop by and see the Center and hear about its work from the director, assistant director, and teacher. The Center is a participating recipient in the United Fund.

Council Grants Rezoning Request

A need for business zoning on the west side of town was pointed out by city councilmen when they reversed a decision of the zoning commission and voted to grant a request for rezoning a spot on Vogelsang Street.

Decision came at a regular meeting Tuesday evening, over protests from several west side residents. It will allow the moving of Bubber's Place from West 8th to 904 N. Vogelsang.

Tuesday's meeting lasted over three hours, with a long agenda and continued long discussions of street work, which are becoming a regular feature of council meetings.

On the rezoning question, councilmen noted that when the city was zoned there was no area on the west side zoned for business and each proposal for such business must be decided by the zoning commission and council.

A. W. McCullin, director of the Community Development Agency, said a meeting to be held Thursday (tonight) would give residents of the area a chance to discuss the problem. The meeting will be held at 7:30 in the Progressive Missionary Baptist Church.

Julius Whiteside was spokesman for the opposition to the rezoning. He said the tavern would be next to the Masonic Hall and many residents felt a business of that type was not suitable for a residential area.

NO OBJECTIONS

City Secy. Buddy Fuller said all residents living within 200 feet of the proposed location had been notified and none had voiced objections. Hubert Knight, who appeared in favor of the rezoning, said there had always been neighborhood businesses in that area. Councilman Bob Clark reminded the council that Knight had made a similar request five years ago which was denied. Knight wanted to move his place away from O. J. Thomas School.

In other business, council voted to advertise for bids for an engineering study of drainage in northeast Cameron and paving plans for a 36-block area in the Burns and Green additions.

Victor Turley, engineer who is working with the Community Development Agency, told the council his firm would do the work at a cost of $1800 for the drainage study and $6000 for the paving study.

City Atty. Ed Magre said bids must be taken ahead Councilman Gene Lumpkin said engineering firms would not bid against each other. Council voted to seek bids.

Council agreed that no curb and gutters should be installed in the area until the engineering study is complete. The study would establish corners and street centers, and provide plans for paving each block.

All agreed that the work should be started as soon as possible.

RISEING COSTS

Rising costs of paving came in for discussion and decision was to ask four residents of the Culpepper Addition if they are willing to pay more for proposed paving. The residents paid their cost share about two years ago.

Three permits for placing mobile homes were granted including one at 107 N. Bowie, one at 801 W. Batte and a third at 2002 N. Washington.

McCullin reported on the status of the city's urban renewal extension, saying that funds for the project should be received in about six weeks. He said appraisal work was being done now.

Correspondence with Southern Pacific Railway was noted. City is requesting the company to clean weeds off its right of way.

On a vote to require curb and gutter on all streets to be paved, Councilman Clark abstained, explaining that he felt not enough study had been done. Councilman Lumpkin offered the motion. Before the vote Mayor Gene Blake expressed reservations, saying that too many streets, especially on the west side, would present a problem. Lumpkin said exceptions could be made if needed.

Council voted to seek bids on a new police car and authorized painting fire plug zones to conform with state law. A letter to Texas Highway Dept. district engineer Joe Hanover will express appreciation for two new sets of traffic lights recently installed.

REWARD OFFERED

Rewards are being offered for information leading to the arrest of persons who entered county homes and a store in Gause recently, according to Sheriff Carl Black.

A reward of $100 is offered for information about the break-in of the Roy Maddox home last week, when a color television set was stolen, and a $50 reward is offered for information about vandalism in a Gause store.

Sheriff Black said youthful vandals are suspected in the destruction of windows and door facings in the store. Nothing was taken from the store, the owner reported.

Black said a rash of thefts has been reported, including that of a new chain saw from the Willie place between Cameron and Milano, and also the theft of two tractors, one from a field and one from a shed.

Town Meeting To Air Plans For City Park

The Cameron Planning Commission is calling a special meeting for all citizens of Cameron for Thursday, Nov. 7 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Progressive Missionary Baptist Church, 1000 W. 6 Street.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss plans for building a playground in the area of the O. J. Thomas School, between 6th and 8th Streets, and other improvements.

Plans for the first action year, 1975, will be presented and reviewed. This will be the program the Community Development Agency will present to the Department of Housing and Urban Development in December of this year.

More Than Victorian...

In reading over arguments against approval of a noble, but poorly constructed Equal Rights Amendment, we are reminded of the horrors of the Nazi gas chambers in which as many as six million Jews disappeared.

It is an extreme example, but what happens when values collapse.

The human equation, for Nazi (albeit German) efficiency in face of wholesale human destruction, was eliminated when men, women and children were stripped like animals, marched into showers where they were gassed, then burned to ashes in ovens. Or stacked, equally, like bony cordwood.

As we understand it, this ERA proposes reduction of basic amenities between men and women, in the legal rights of women, in the definitions of labor and social contribution --- all in the name of equal rights for modern women.

We are progressive as long as it is progress and not pointless rebellion. There is no progress in the emotional stock of women legalizing social revolution. We don't think you can legislate morality or equality. We think you earn or fall into such categories.

A giant step considers both takeoff and landing. ERA seems to create a new world and destroy the one behind. People are incapable of this unless nature does it for them. We cannot legislate memory any more than we can forget what we have been, the "why" for change in the first place.

Reducing human and social values for some nebulous "partnership" is a sure way to bring out the least in us. And it has taken millions of years to get the veneer of civilization to its contemporary thickness.

For these reasons, among others, we support rescinding this Equal Rights Amendment. And it has nothing to do with keeping the woman in some Victorian place.

Elections Cost Candidates Bundle To Run

Regardless of whether voters were steamed up about the November 5 general election, it cost the candidates a bundle to run.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe led the spending. His $1.2 million in outlays topped that of his nearest rival, Republican Jim Granberry, two-to-one.

Granberry listed contributions of $521,462 and expenditures of $536,545.

Briscoe reported about $1.3 million in contributions and loans, including $645,000 of his own money.

Second highest spending was in the heated race for state comptroller. Democrat Bob Bullock said he received $130,701 in contributions and spent $129,369. His Republican opponent, Nick Rowe, itemized $36,274 in donations and $31,877 in spending.

Opposition from Republican Robert Holt caused veteran State Treasurer Jesse James to spend $85,807 in a media campaign. James raised $86,408. Holt spent $32,124 and raised $37,032.

Even candidates with light opposition saw fit to put together sizable war-chests. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, for example, took in $117,599 and spent $101,420, although his Republican challenger Gaylord Marshall had only $10,564 in donations and spent $21,760.

Atty. Gen. John Hill reported spending $92,415 of $99,822 contributed.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White spent $57,810 and received $58,643, while his GOP opponent, Zack Fisher of Memphis, settled for a $47,000 campaign and less than $40,000 in donations and loans.

TEACHERS WANT RAISE—Texas State Teachers Association's legislative committee has voted to ask the legislature to raise the pay of teachers to about $12,000 a year.

Texas teachers want at least $500 over the U.S. average beginning with the 1975-76 school year.

The U.S. average in 1973-74 was $10,673, but TSTA officials calculate it will go up to $11,761 in 1975-76.

Average teacher pay in Texas was $8,967 last school year placing Texas in 37th place among 50 states.

Another committee legislative proposal was for a 75 per cent increase in state funds for school bus transportation.

DISCOUNTS PROMISED—Owners of 1975 model autos will get a 10 per cent collision insurance premium reduction due to better bumpers.

Three import cars were approved for even higher bumper discounts, according to the State Insurance Board.

Checker Marathon and Volvo models are eligible for a 20 per cent discount, and Saab 99 for a 15 per cent reduction.

PLAZA OFFERED—The State Bar of Texas has offered to develop and give to the state a $700,000 memorial plaza and underground parking facility in the capitol area.

The plaza will be located near the proposed new $5 million Texas Law Center, the State Bar's future headquarters which is just about to be constructed.

Atty. Gen. John Hill, a member of the State Building Commission, recommended the legislature be asked to appropriate funds for two additional levels of parking under the scenic plaza in order to help relieve auto congestion in the crowded capitol area.

COURTS SPEAK—The State Supreme Court upheld removal of Wichita County District Attorney Jimmie Phagan after disbarment.

The high court threw out Nueces County law officers' appeal of an injunction forbidding them from enforcing a new "handgun" law against an armored car service.

Supreme Court justices divided five-to-four in affirming action of a Randall County judge who set trial of a suit on promissory note without notifying the defendant.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and remanded revocation of probation of an Hidalgo County man because the prosecution didn't prove a violation "by greater weight of evidence".

The same court reversed and remanded life sentence of a Bexar County man for murder and a 35-year sentence of an Austin man who fired at a police officer.

AG OPINIONS—A woman has the right to decide at the time of her marriage whether she wants her married name or maiden name on her driver's license and other licenses, permits or personnel application, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The security charge is an element of lowest airline fares used in computation of reimbursable expenses for use of a personal vehicle.

The legislature can enact legislation utilizing a formula of matching dollar-for-dollar all federal funds available for grants to Aid to Families with Dependent

Dear Editor:

According to an article I read last night in a newspaper I found on the road near this Johnson grass farm and brought home to recycle the contents as I understand the energy czar wants us to do, a high Russian official, I can't remember his name and couldn't spell it if I could and neither one of us could pronounce it anyway, has been fired because he was caught building a $175,000 home out of materials he's swiped from the government.

This almost bowled me over. I didn't know they had human nature in Russia. I thought all the politicians over there worked night and day for the people and were satisfied if they got room and board and an occasional medal. All lying and cheating was done to other countries. You mean to tell me human nature is going to crop out, regardless of what form of government it's living under?

Speaking of other countries, I noticed that U. S. diplomats are always talking about improving our relations with other countries but nobody ever talks about other countries improving their relations with us. How come no other country once in a while at least isn't afraid of losing our friendship?

Changing the subject again, I understand Washington is considering adding a surcharge on incomes to get more tax money to fight inflation. I've got a better idea, if more tax money is the answer. Give all male government employees a week off, dress them in highway patrolmen's uniforms, and fine everybody driving over 55 miles an hour. At $20 a fine, and with about 20 million cars on the road, that'd come to 400 million dollars a day, or about 3 billion a week, counting those caught more than once. If that won't quite whip inflation, lower the speed limit to 50 next week and double your take.

Remember, if at first you don't succeed, run for office.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Shelving Rubber Ducks...

A recent Belden Poll confirms our suspicion the public is hacked at the Texas Legislature cum constitutionalists for its July, 1974, performance and is looking for a vote on the new Constitution proposal.

Belden shows 81 per cent want the voters to decide and that 67 per cent interviewed were "displeased" including 45 "very displeased."

This doesn't come out in print or visual comment, but it shows the public may vote down a new constitutional instrument, but they want the right, not the Legislature.

These results suggest State Senator Bill Patman's plan to get a proposal out of the 1975 Legislature may find support even though it would require a two-thirds approval to bring out the proposal turned down in convention by three votes. He proposes likewise that some addendums which caused the narrow defeat be deleted.

The constitution revision committee suggests a new constitution convention be called, taking the issue out of the Legislature's hands, which it should never have entered in the first place.

If Senator Patman's proposal fails, it will have to go to a new convention. If he succeeds and the instrument is turned down in a public vote, a new convention will have to be called "to get on with it."

Our guess is two-thirds won't vote out the instrument, but a change of rules allowing simple majority would. The prospect is for a new convention unless the Legislature shelves its political rubber ducks and floats this issue onto a state ballot.

All legislators need is to poll their districts like Belden polled the sampling which said, without reservation, voters want to have their say.

ELECTRICITY

We Couldn't Do Without It!

You might think that is an odd statement for a natural gas company to say about electricity. But it's true! There are some things that only electricity can do...like lighting, refrigeration and the many other jobs that it does so well and so easily.

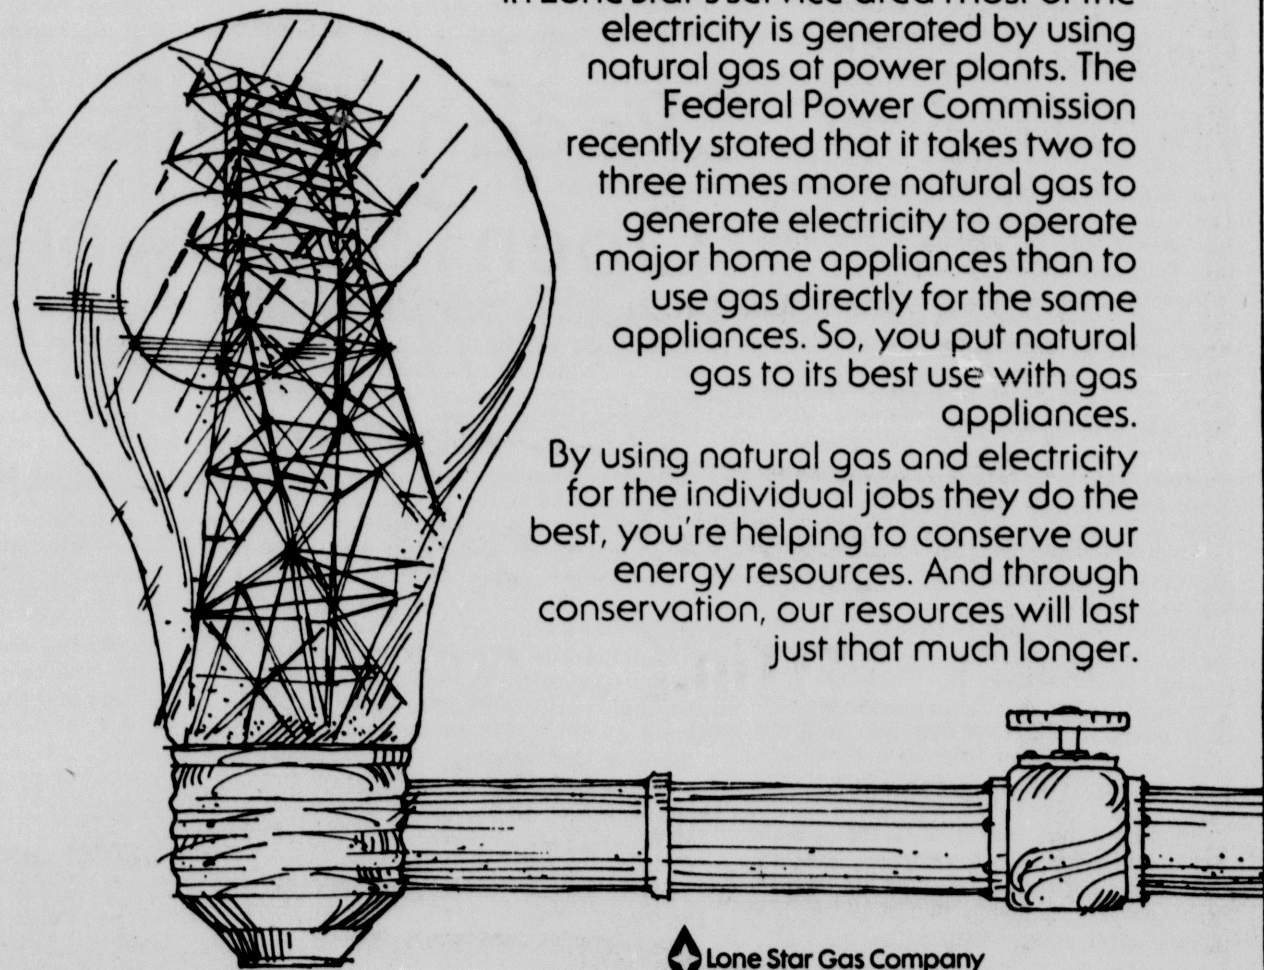

But—

NATURAL GAS

Generates The Electricity You Use!

In Lone Star's service area most of the electricity is generated by using natural gas at power plants. The Federal Power Commission recently stated that it takes two to three times more natural gas to generate electricity to operate major home appliances than to use gas directly for the same appliances. So, you put natural gas to its best use with gas appliances.

By using natural gas and electricity for the individual jobs they do the best, you're helping to conserve our energy resources. And through conservation, our resources will last just that much longer.

Team Pork with Autumn's Bright Bounty For Appetizing and Nutritious Entrees

Nature gives autumn a fascinating kaleidoscope of brilliant color. The reds, oranges, purples, greens and golds of the harvest make a pretty scene at the market. A smart shopper takes advantage of this abundant produce.

It's a good time to put pork in the market basket too. For this fine meat, smoked or fresh, makes a compatible partner for fall's fruits and vegetables, points out Reba Staggs, National Live Stock and Meat Board. These recipes are delicious examples of pork and vegetable couplets, using apples, acorn squash and turnips.

6 whole allspice
Water
6 medium turnips
6 medium carrots
1 large onion
¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper
Place smoked shoulder roll in Dutch oven; add allspice and water to barely cover.

Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 hour and 30 minutes. Cut turnips, carrots and onion crosswise in slices ¼ inch thick. Remove meat to carving board and pour off all but 1 cup cooking liquid. Place turnip, carrot and onion slices in cooking liquid and sprinkle with pepper. Carve shoulder roll in slices ½ inch thick and place on top of vegetables. Cover and cook slowly 30 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Remove meat and vegetables from cooking liquid and place on hot platter. 6 to 8 servings.

Sausage in Squash Boats

3 acorn squash
Salt
1 pound pork sausage links
Split squash lengthwise, remove seeds and pulp and place cut side down in baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 30 to 40 minutes, depending upon size of squash. Turn halves cut side up, sprinkle with salt and place 3 pork sausage links in the center of each. Continue baking 15 minutes. Turn sausage, brush surface of squash with drippings, return to oven and bake 15 to 20 minutes longer. 6 servings.

Baked Ribs—Apple Rings
3 pounds pork back ribs

1 tablespoon salt
4 tart apples, cored and sliced ½ inch thick
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 cup apple jelly
½ cup lemon juice

Cut ribs in serving pieces allowing approximately 3 ribs for each serving. Season with salt. Place, rib side down, on rack in roasting pan. Cover tightly and bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) 1½ hours. Pour off drippings. Combine cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg with brown sugar in saucepan; stir in apple jelly and lemon juice. Cook slowly until jelly is melted.

Cotton Harvest Report

Cotton harvesting and scrapping operations throughout the area serviced by the Austin Classing Office were again halted by general rains moving through the territory, reports J. B. Russ, Officer in Charge. According to the Agricultural Marketing Service, harvesting is virtually complete throughout the area, except Crockett where gathering operations are about 85 percent complete.

Quality statistics for this week ending November 1 showed Grade 52 accounted for 26 percent of the total classed and Grade 42, 21 percent. Twenty-three percent of the cotton classed was reduced in grade due to Bark or Grass. Staple 34 accounted for 42 percent, up 8 percentage points over last week, and Staple 33, 23 percent of the total classed. The micronaire readings showed 65 percent in the desirable range of 3.5-4.9 and 21 percent read 5.0 and above.

The Pressley fiber strength tests showed 41 percent of the cotton had a breaking strength of 80-84,000 pounds per square inch (PSI). The average Pressley for the season was 85,000 PSI.

Farmers continued to hold their cotton, resisting the low prices being offered. The Austin office classed 4,000 samples this week bringing the season's total to 206,000 samples.

Substitute Hedge

A long, low planter box of western wood can act as a substitute hedge under a window or at the edge of a porch or deck.

Farmers Union Airs Resolutions

At its October 19 meeting the Milam County Farmers Union adopted the following resolutions:

--In view of the Department of Agriculture's policy of all-out production, price supports should be increased to 100 percent of parity so farmers won't be ruined by a drastic price drop;

--The government should not curtail export sales of grain, which depresses grain prices, and permit unrestricted sales of fertilizer chemicals and machinery which increase farmers' costs;

--Congress should take action to close tax loopholes which allow high income individuals and corporations to charge off their farm losses against their non-farm income.

In other business, Charles Ed Hensley was elected president for the coming year, Willie Moraw vice president, and Paul Dillon secretary.

County Agent's Notes

County Pecan Show Set

By Bill McCutchen

The 1974 Milam County Pecan and Pecan Foods show will be Saturday, November 9 at the K. C. Hall in Cameron.

If you are interested in entering, pecan entries consist of one quart of pecans in a plastic bag with name of the grower and variety, if known, attached. You may enter as many varieties as you wish but you are limited to one entry per variety with the exception of native pecans. You may enter as many native varieties as you wish.

Pecans are limited to Milam County and may be left at the Chamber of Commerce office in Rockdale, the County Extension Office in Cameron, or the Buckholts Farmers Gin in Buckholts. These should be brought by these locations by noon Thursday, November 7.

A native and improved pecan cracker will be available at the show courtesy of the Winkler Pecan Farm. Cracking charge is ten cents a pound and we ask that you limit the amount of pecans cracked to 20 pounds so that we can service as many as possible.

The pecan crackers will be set up all day Friday and until noon on Saturday. It would be advisable to bring pecans by Friday if you wish them to be cracked.

BROWN PATCH

The arrival of cool weather and recent rains have caused a spread of brown patch in St. Augustine grass lawns.

Brown patch is a fungus disease that occurs early fall and is characterized by circular patterns of dead grass from 1 to 50 feet in diameter. Grass at the outer edge of the affected area may appear dark and wilted and have a yellow "halo".

You can diagnose the disease by pulling a leaf blade from the runner. If it pulls free with only slight pressure, the grass is affected.

In some cases a circular pattern is not noticeable and a large area of grass may be thinned and eventually killed by the disease. This often occurs in St. Augustine grass growing in shady, moist areas.

Some effective fungicides for control of the disease are PCNB (Terraclor), zinc-iron complex (Fore), chlorothalonil (Daconil 2787), and benomyl (Benlate).

If the disease has affected your lawn every year, apply a fungicide before the disease appears.

Feeder Cattle Outlook Dim

"Higher feed costs, continued feedlot losses, and exceptionally large supplies of replacement animals mean lower prices for the feeder cattle market," says Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Cattle placed on feed during August, 1974, were down 22 percent in the seven major feeding states, which indicates no changed attitude among feeders," says the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Price differences between U. S. Good grade beef and U. S. Choice grade beef are expected to widen even further this fall. This price difference will be reflected in feeder prices, causing much larger discounts on plainer kinds of replacements.

"Fed cattle will probably show further weakness through October because of the increasing number of non-feds available," predicts Uvacek. "However, prices during the remainder of the year should move upward."

Uvacek also expects feeder cattle prices to continue downward because of high feed costs and feedlot unprofitability.

"On July 1 of this year there were about 5 1/2 million more replacement cattle available outside of feedlots than last year. This larger supply of feeders will continue to push down feeder prices. However, some recovery is expected by November and December as supplies thin out.

"The real key to the future of feeder prices is fed cattle prices," contends Uvacek.

"Unless feedlots become profitable again, it will be hard to sell replacement animals--at any price."

ASCS News

Any Milam county wool or lamb producer who has not received a referendum ballot and an explanation of the proposed new agreement covering wool payment deductions for product promotional purposes may pick them up at the county ASCS office, reports Douglas Buck, County Executive Director.

The mail referendum is being conducted nationwide by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture to determine if wool and lamb producers want USDA to continue to make deductions from wool payments for use by the American Sheep Producers Council for advertising and sales promotional programs for wool and lamb.

To be counted, ballots must be mailed or delivered in person to the county ASCS office before 4:30 p. m., Friday, November 18, 1974. Anyone who has owned sheep 6 months old or older for a 30 consecutive days during 1973 is eligible to vote.

"Ballots have been mailed to all producers in the county known to be eligible to vote," Buck said.

Livestock Production Down... Fewer Broilers, More Layers... Harvest Progressing... Ranges in Good Condition

CATTLE SALES in Texas were down extensively the past two or three months, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. In September, 449,000 head were sold through Texas auctions, 26 per cent below a year ago and eight per cent below sales in August. Sheep sales through auction barns were 67,000, compared to 75,000 a year ago and 74,000 the previous month; and goat sales in September in Texas auction barns were 23,000 head, which was 30 per cent below September, 1973 and 34 per cent below August sales. Hog sales were up to 43,000 in September, 1974, which was 16 per cent above the same month in 1973. During the three months of July, August, and September of this year, 755,000 head of cattle were placed on feed in Texas feedlots, and that was 29 per cent fewer than a year ago; and 933,000 head were sold from Texas feedlots during that time, 14 per cent below sales for the same period last year. On October 1, there were 1,599,000 head of cattle being fed for slaughter in feedlots, compared to 2,323,000 head at the same time in 1973, a decline of 31 per cent. During September, 1974, there were 131,848 head of cattle and calves shipped out of Texas and 98,122 head shipped in. Shipments out were 53 per cent below shipments out during the same period of 1973, and shipments in were 38 per cent below shipments in during the same period in 1973.

THE HATCH of egg-type chicks increased in September by 12 per cent over the same month a year ago, reaching 2,000,000; but the hatch of broilers dropped to 12,612,000, 11 per cent below September, 1973 and nine per cent below August's hatch. Heavy breed turkey poulters hatched during the week ending October 19, 1974 totaled 113,000, which is 64 per cent more than the same time in 1973. Heavy breed turkey eggs set totaled 170,000, which was 16 per cent less than a year ago and four per cent less than the previous week. In nine turkey-producing states including Texas. There were 1,544,000 eggs set for turkey poults during the week ending October 19, 1974, compared to 1,741,000 at the same time last year. There were 756,000 turkey poults hatched in the same states during the same week, compared to 752,000 in 1973.

DESPITE SOME rainy weather, harvest of Texas crops continued during the last weeks of October. The harvest of the first crop of rice is complete and over a third of the second crop has gone to the dryers. Sorghum harvest is about two-thirds complete, despite the slow down on the High Plains due to rains and cold weather. Cotton harvest is about 26 per cent complete, soybean about 15 per cent complete, peanuts about 55 per cent, and pecan harvest is gaining speed. (Pecan prices are reported holding steady at 30 to 35 cents for natives and from 40 to 55 cents a pound for improved varieties.) In the Valley, picking of oranges and grapefruit continues, and planting of lettuce, onions and cabbage is going on. Harvest of lettuce and carrots resumed in the High Plains after the wet weather, and okra, tomatoes, beans, green onions, greens and collards are being harvested in North Texas. Cucumbers, bell peppers, and cabbage are being picked in the San Antonio-Winter Garden areas.

AS MIGHT BE expected, Texas ranges are in good condition and wheat and oats are making good progress. Hay baling is continuing in many areas of the State as weather permits. Most cattle are in good condition. Some new screwworm cases have been reported over the State, including one in the Cross-Timbers area. Cattlemen are urged to be on the lookout for screwworms, and to send samples of any suspected cases to the laboratory in Mission.

NATIONAL AVERAGE support level for peanuts has been announced by the U.S. Agriculture Department as $366 per short ton. This compares to $328.50 per ton support level in 1973, and is $7.50 per ton more than the preliminary minimum announced earlier. The support level for average type Southwest Spanish peanuts, the kind most Texans probably grow, is $356.21 per ton. Price schedules may be obtained from Southwestern Peanut Growers Association, Gorman, Texas. Harvest of the 1974 peanut crop is estimated between five and 10 per cent complete, slightly behind last year's harvest on account of delays from rain on the Upper Gulf Coast and in Southwest Texas. Yields have been described as disappointing.

PRIVATE AND licensed citrus nurserymen in the Valley have reported 246,000 citrus trees moved to groves during the year ending June 30, 1974, an increase of seven per cent in transplanting over the previous year. Almost all of the trees moved from nurseries to groves were grapefruit, and less than one per cent were oranges and other citrus.

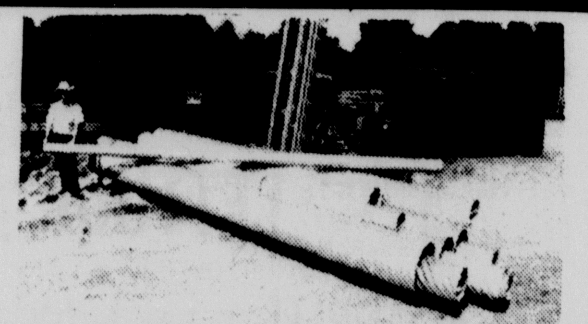

TDA Issues Nursery Directory

AUSTIN--The Texas Floral and Nursery Directory for 1974, listing all the licensed growers, dealers and florists in the state, has been issued, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

All businesses in the book have been inspected by a

Texas Department of Agriculture inspector before a license was issued.

Copies of the book are available by writing to Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Tex. 78711.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Life is a one day at a time proposition when your kidneys have failed - either you have routine hemodialysis or a kidney transplant or you die.

Just a few years ago a person with end-stage kidney disease had little choice for living. Dialysis was either too expensive or non-obtainable and kidney transplant techniques weren't dependable.

Now, says the State Department, the odds have changed in favor of the patient. Through the Texas Kidney Health Care Program, more than 860 Texans are being helped to meet each new day.

Those with good health may not fully appreciate this state of well-being, but those with chronic kidney disease are well aware of the joys of being well.

Recent advances in medical science have made hemodialysis practical and kidney transplants possible. In dialysis the blood is purified by means of a dialysis machine. Transplants are becoming more successful especially if the donor is a blood relative, but there is always the danger of rejection by the patient.

Recognizing that chronic kidney disease patients face financial crises for lack of personal financial resources to pay for the expensive equipment and care necessary for survival, the 63rd Texas Legislature passed the Texas Kidney Health Care Act.

Under this act, the State Health Department assists persons with renal failure in getting treatment and in paying for this treatment. Who are these persons receiving assistance? Among them are:

--A migrant worker from McAllen, who was admitted to the program with acute renal failure. A month later he was flown to Galveston for a transplant operation, the first time an air ambulance was used in the program.

--A West Texas radio announcer who, even with a good salary, couldn't afford the expenses. He's getting dialysis and regular check-ups.

--A former Health Department employee from Victoria who had a transplant before the program started. He suffered complications due to anti-rejection medications which prohibited his working.

When the state program began last fall, it was estimated that 500 persons in Texas would benefit each year. During its first month, the new program picked up more than 300 persons who had been on dialysis. Within six months, however, the cumulative total exceeded the projection for the entire year.

The law attempted to make entrance into the program as uncomplicated and as speedy as possible, but certain guidelines must be followed.

Applications must be made through a medical facility approved by the federal Medicare program. Private physicians normally help with the applications - first step to entering the program.

Applications are submitted to the State Health Department's Kidney Health Care Division for approval. State benefits are provided for services delivered during the period between the onset of regular dialysis and the applicant's Medicare Chronic Renal Disease entitlement.

Sports Spotlight

By Forrest Guess

Last Friday night the Yoemen had another great offensive night. The Yoemen were able to total 427 yards rushing and a total of 87 yards in the air. The biggest yard gainer was Willie Bell, he accounted for 290 yards rushing. This was the most impressive running that I have ever seen in high school ball. Bell carried the pigskin in for four touchdowns. He carried the ball 21 times during the night and the average came to a whopping 13.8 yards per carry.

Once again the defense did a super job against the strong Eagle team. When the Eagles were able to cross the goal line a silent hush fell across the Yoemen club. This was the first touchdown that has been scored on the Yoe defense in district play. The average points scored by opponents during district play is 2.4 and for the season is a slim 3.0. While the Yoe offense is scoring an average of 22.2 for the season and during district the average is 29.2.

Every defensive play the Yoemen were able to show the Eagles that they were the toughest team in the district. The defensive standouts were, Ronnie Bennett, Dennis Hollas, Joey Mondrik, and Frank Tena.

In visiting with Coach Cauley, he had the following remarks about the game last Friday. "I was very pleased with the game. Our kids gave everything they had. We all got after it and it was a lot of fun. But in the first three possessions of the ball, I got a little anxious, but after that I felt real good. I thought Brian Cobb, Donald Hanel, Joe Smitherman, and Ronnie Bennett did an excellent job. When you have backs running like we did you know some one is opening some holes."

"It sure did hurt to let them in our end zone but our kids didn't let down and continued to get with them. They are a great bunch to work with."

About the game this week, Cauley had these remarks. "We're going to play football this week like we have the past two weeks. We got a lot of effort and we have a lot to look forward to again this week."

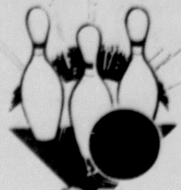

"The Manor team doesn't have a lot of size and they are a real young ball team. They (Manor) went to the quarterfinals in class A last year but have been moved up a class to 2A.

Their season record now stands at 1-7-0. We have been working out our offense with the junior varsity and I think this has helped get us prepared for the past two games, and we will work with them this week."

"We are looking for a good offensive ballgame again and we hope everyone will come to Manor because it sure means a lot to our team to have all our fans with us."

In local football action this Thursday night, the Junior Varsity will play the Manor JV starting at 7 p.m. The freshman team will suit up with the junior varsity for the game due to Manor not having a freshman team. The 7th and 8th graders have an open date this week.

Murray Go-Round

ARKANSAS PROBLEMS:

Amid much publicity, Arkansas' Frank Broyles executive-jettied onto the Texas Gulf Coast, at the eleventh hour last spring, to sign two of the bluest Blue-chip running backs ever produced in salt grass country: Angleton's Tommy Woods and Baytown Sterling's Sammie Singleton.

Woods, a 9.5 sprinter with moves, had high-balled Cinderella Angleton all the way to the Texas 4A semifinals. He was such a hot prospect those well-known flesh-merchants from Oklahoma and Colorado were hot on his heels. But, unofficial word was Tommy would become a Houston Cougar.

Singleton? Six-foot, three inches tall, 218 pounds, fast enough to clock 10 flat in the 100 yard dash, strong enough to put the shot 60 feet and so talented as a football totter he attracted every college in the country that counted, the Baytown Bruiser could not miss.

Singleton let it be known that his intent was to become the next Roosevelt Leaks at the University of Texas.

Therefore, Broyles caused a big stir in flying in, at the last minute, and coping these two Supers right out from under Darrell Royal and Bill Yeoman's outstretched fingers.

But, as so often happens, the weeks deep into the 1974 schedule, Singleton quit the Razor-backs and headed for Baytown. Seven weeks into '74 Woods quit on Broyles, a second time, and split toward home.

QUICKIES:

Irony? Kent Waldrep, the TCU running back tragically paralyzed in that Alabama pileup, would not have even been there if he'd had his way. Kent's father, Al Waldrep, is a Texas grad and a devout Longhorn fan. Young Waldrep was raised hooking 'em with the best of UT fans. But, Texas needs linemen, more than halfbacks, at the time. DKR's group passed and Kent signed with TCU.

Yoe Faces Hapless Manor

From Class A quarterfinals the Manor Mustangs have found district 23 AA a little too tough and have only been able to score one victory this season. The Mustangs were able to outscore Marble Falls in a non-district clash.

Manor returns 7 lettermen from their 11-2 season of last year. They have 0 offensive starters backs and only three defensive regulars for this tough district action. This has been a long season for the Mustangs for they have taken some pretty hard whippings. The class change could not have come at a more desperate time for the Mustangs.

The Mustangs run the Wish-bone formation as their main offensive set. On defense, the Manor formation is the 5-4 and they use a lot of stunts. The most promising player on the Mustang unit is #30, Larry Milligan, who was named to the All-Centex defense unit. He is the quickest man the team has on defense.

Greg McMahan will be leading the Mustangs and will be without the assistance of four offensive regulars. The Mustangs suffered a loss of four players the gym and seemed to have lost more than they gained by working out.

Their offensive line average in just over 150 pounds with their backfield in over 168 pounds. The Mustangs have 2 senior starters on their offensive set.

The game Friday night seems to be another rough contest for the Mustangs and the yoemen hopes for a district championship will depend on a contest in Cameron. Caldwell, who at the time will represent district 23, will play Rosebud-Lott.

OUT-OF-DATE ?

Happiness and contentment . . . the sight of a cheerful baby easily brings these beautiful thoughts to our minds.

Yet in the bustle of life today we often find ourselves wondering how to achieve joy and serenity.

The Church has the answer. Its teachings stress truth, compassion, morality . . . principles that never go out-of-date.

A person nurtured in a Christian atmosphere attains the tranquility so necessary in this world of change and turmoil.

Start this week.

Revival Set At Rockdale

A unique type of revival featuring students and graduates of Sunset School of Preaching in Lubbock begins a one-week stand Sunday (Nov. 10) at the Murray Street Church of Christ in Rockdale. A different speaker is scheduled for each worship service during the Gospel meeting whose theme is "make someone happy."

"We tried out this type meeting last year and it met with such wide acceptance both in the church and the community that we are very optimistic over our impending revival," the eldership said. "These young men will again move into Rockdale for one week to work day and night with the congregation and community friends."

Leading the delegation from the Lubbock campus will be Jack Cooper of Rockdale, a
